THE PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

To all the TJEA members, I look forward to working with all of you over the next two years and know that together we can make Jazz Education even stronger then it is in the state of Texas. We have a great board of directors with Alex Parker, Richard Birk and newest member Paul Baker helping to guide us as well as new president elect, Tim Ishii and our returning officers Brent Colwell and Heather Mensch. It will be a pleasure working with them. Thanks to Ronnie Rios for all you did these first two years of the organization as our first president. Thanks go to John Goode for taking the responsibility of putting together the newsletter. Send your news worthy articles and photos to jgoode488@aol.com

Our web page is being hosted by TMEA and we believe that gives us a stronger connection with them. I want to thank Cathy Benford for working closely with TMEA to make this happen.

The midi-files are up on the website so that your students can have a background to work with while preparing the Jazz All State Etudes. I want to thank Richard Birk for all his work on collecting the jazz etudes and getting them into Finale and creating the midi-files. If any of you Finale wizards are out there Richard sure could use some help in the future with that project.

All Elementary, Middle and High School directors make sure you apply for the grants that are available through TJEA. Go to the website for information and applications for the grants.

Volume 1 No. 1 of the Jazz Journal was completed and sent to members back in January; I hope that you have found the material useful for your students. I know I have copied a few of the articles and handed them out...

Jazz Educators Network

Two Texas jazz ensembles, Austin Academy in Garland and College of the Mainland in Texas City performed at the first JEN conference. After the demise of the International Association for Jazz Education several of the active leadership members came together and organized The Jazz Education Network (JEN). 2010 marked the first annual JEN conference held at the University of Missouri - St. Louis, May 20-22. Around 25 ensembles of various age groups and skill levels performed during the two-day event. They came from eleven different states and one ensemble from Sweden.

If you are a serious jazz educator or enthusiast strongly consider becoming a member of JEN. The 2nd Annual Jazz Education Network Conference is coming up in January and will be just next door in Louisiana! The conference dates are January 6-8, 2011. Join JEN today and get your ensembles ready to go! Find membership details by scanning their home page located at http://www.jazzednet.org/

College of the Mainland Ensemble Performs @ JEN Conference

The COM Jazz Ensemble directed by Sparky Koerner had a wonderful performance at the 1st Annual Jazz Educators Network Conference held at the University of Missouri St. Louis Campus on May 21, 2010. The Jazz Ensemble performed a 50-minute concert in the Millennium Student Center on the UMSL Campus. The Jazz Ensemble was selected to perform at the JEN Conference via a recorded audition CD submitted last December.

The members of the ensemble were able to attend concerts by other universities, high schools and clinics, and workshops by professional jazz musicians. “This was an educational experience for the members of the Jazz Ensemble” Sparky said, “Many of these performers had never attended a jazz conference before and this was an experience they will never forget.”

The trip was funded by the members of the Jazz Ensemble, College of the Mainland and a grant from the Hamman Foundation.

The next JEN Conference is scheduled for New Orleans January 6-8, 2011 the birthplace of American Jazz.

Texas Christian University

The Texas Christian University Jazz Studies program had a busy and exciting 2009-2010 school year. The three big bands and student combos performed many concerts on campus and throughout the Ft. Worth-Dallas Metroplex area including a TCU Alumni event in Kansas City. During the fall semester they presented Los Angeles studio musician and former Dallas Symphony bass trombonist Morris Repass (also a TCU alum) in a brass master class and concert featuring some wonderful Clare Fischer arrangements. The spring semester included clinics and master classes from Mike Vax and Jim Snidero.

The TCU Jazz Ensemble 1 directed by professor Curt Wilson performed at TMEA in February with guest conductor/composer Patrick Williams and jazz trombone artist Andy Martin plus TCU clarinet professor Gary Whitman performing Pat Williams’ CONCERTO IN SWING.

Our graduate teaching assistant in Jazz Studies, Scott Sidway, who played lead trombone last summer in the Disneyland All-American Collegiate Band, was invited back to serve as a teaching assistant. Scott also wrote several of the Texas All-State Jazz trombone audition etudes last year. One of our trumpet players, Sarah Bauza, also performed in the Disneyland Band last summer.

33rd annual TCU Jazz Festival

The 33rd annual TCU JAZZ FESTIVAL featured 28 middle school and high school jazz bands from throughout Texas. Guest artists included the CEDAR WALTON QUARTET and saxophone artist/composer Mario Cruz (also a TCU alum!) who recently moved back to this area after 35 years in New York playing with everyone – including Bruce Springsteen, Blood Sweat and Tears, among others.

Festival adjudicators were Dr. Ron McCurdy (USC), Mario Cruz, Rick Stitzel (TCC), Ron Puckett, and TCU faculty members Dr. Brian West and Joe Eckert.

Jazz Panel Adjudicators Needed

[Sparky Koerner, TMEA audition coordinator for the all-state jazz ensemble sends this message to the general membership.]

I am soliciting people to be on the jazz panels to listen to the TMEA High School Jazz Ensemble Audition CD’s. That listening will take place on Sunday, November 7, 2010 in Arlington, TX at Martin High School. It takes 48 people to make this work. Each panel has 6 members with one member running the CD player. You may think that job is not important but believe me when you’re sitting there with 40 CDs you don’t want to mix them up.

In the past few years we have had two trumpet panels come in on Saturday and listen to these CD’s because there is usually 100 or more. Another panel that takes a long time is the drum set players and I am working to see if maybe we should do two panels on Saturday also. More on that as the semester starts. If you are interested in being on a panel contact me at: skoerner@com.edu

Jazz Directors Symposium

A great learning day took place at Stony Point High School in Round Rock on Saturday June 12, 2010. Wonderful clinicians presented great material that will help everyone in attendance with their jazz programs.

The Topics and Clinics included:

- Big Band / Combo Rehearsal Techniques, George DeRocher, Clinician.
- Incorporating Improvisation Instruction into Rehearsal, Roland Sandoval, Clinician.
- Rhythm Section Tips for Instrumental, Richard Birk, Clinician.
- How to use technology to teach jazz & Improvisation, Michael Jacobson, Clinician.
- Selecting and Finding Music for your Combo or Big Band, Keith Winking, Clinician.

Each of the clinicians presented a very professional clinic yet in a very relaxed manner. Lunch was provided to all in attendance adding to the camaraderie of the event. Evaluations by those in attendance indicated TJEA should continue with the Directors Symposia but maybe include some hands-on time with our instruments. The idea to offer this for jazz students was also presented.

If you have some thoughts on what should be covered in the next symposium or wish to do a clinic please contact Tim Ishii @ tishii@uta.edu. He will be organizing the next symposium. We will also be moving it around the state so that everyone gets a chance to attend without traveling too far.
